THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 2d day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

The Fusionists are well named, for they tried to open a cannonade, when they had only a fuse. It was a poor fuse at that, and it simply fizzled and went out. No wonder that fusion has brought confusion.

They do say that Hayden is to get bail, and will then enter the lecture field. It don't seem quite clear why the public at large should be so heavily punished for the murder of Mary Stannard, while Hayden goes clear.

Senator Carpenter is reported ill again, and his inability to appear at the executive session has caused a postponement of the consideration of the nomination of Kutchin, of Fond du Lac, as Collector of Internal Revenue.

The lumbermen in the northern part of of the State are happy, for the late fall of snow there was quite heavy, varying from twenty to forty inches. It don't mean with them mere sleigh rides, jingling bells, coasting and bad colds, but it means business, and they are now busy improving the chances.

The Canadian Government has issued an order forbidding ship owners to land impecunious immigrants, and it is to go into effect next Monday. If a ship owner finds any paupers on board, the only way he can do is to tie a stone to their necks and anchor them out from shore, before coming into port. Paupers someway don't seem in demand anywhere.

The Chicago Union Veteran Club has refused to endorse Weaver's bill for giving the ex-soldiers and sailors enough greenbacks to make up for the difference between their pay in currency and the value of specie. This Club is probably the largest organization of veterans in the country, and its action speaks much louder and clearer than the yards of petitions to which all sorts of autographs are appended.

Ouray and his coppery companions are having a good time in Washington. With new clothes, full stomachs, and front seats at the "Black Crook" it is not to be wondered at that they feel so good natured, as to be willing to promise again that they will turn over the murderers and outragers. Promises with them are slipped on and off as easily as their blankets. Ouray seems to be enjoying Washington society so much, that another delegation of Southern Utes, have decided to come after new clothes and fat feasts, and have telegraphed Schurz to kill enough fatted calves to go around.

Gen. J. Z. George, lately elected as successor to Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, was formerly chairman of the Democratic State Committee, and has since been Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State. It is claimed that Barksdale withdrew in his favor, with the understanding that he (Barksdale) shall be elected two years from now when Lamar's term expires. This with the fact that Lamar's influence and work did not prove successful in electing Waltham, who was his choice, the chances for Lamar's election two years hence, rather slim, even should he fully recover his health and vigor.

The idea of the Fusionists seeking congressional action to determine the legality of the Maine Legislature does not seem to have the least show of growing into any action. Last week Senator Angus Cameron, in an interview, said there was no use bringing it before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, of which he is a member, as Congress has nothing to do with the matter. A Democrat member of the same Committee now appears, in an interview, as holding the same opinion He says: "I can't see what Congress has got to do with that controversy. It was a State election, and the whole question is for them to settle. Congress could not touch it, even if there was any disposition to do so."

At the meeting of the National Distillers' Association in Cincinnati, a resolution was passed calling the attention of the Government to the large number of vinegar factories in the country, and hinting broadly that many of these were making whisky, claiming that there are enough vinegar factories in New York alone to supply the whole country, and that there must be some crookedness going on. They advise the officers to let up on the moonshiners and watch the vinegar men. It seems strange enough to have the distillers offering advice concerning the detection of revenue crookedness, but of course it is the general welfare of the country that leads them to do it. Such patriotic self-forgetfulness is worthy of note.

Many of the miners are like the base ball players—the better they strike the sooner they want to get at the bat again. Some of those employed in the mines at Albia, Iowa, struck for four cents a bushel, and made a home run, coming back to work with the desired tally in their favor. The company a few days ago raised the price of coal, and this, the miners say, is sufficient cause for another strike, and they are at the bat again, waiting for their employers to pitch some sort of a new proposition to them Working men are entitled to sympathy, but when they strive not only to regulate their own wages, but also the prices of the production, they get over the line. They might as well invite their employers to resign, and let them run the whole business.

FROM MADISON.

Condition of Wisconsin State Banks —The Pioneer Association.

Special to the Gazette

MADISON, Jan. 24—State Treasurer Guenther issued to-day a statement of the condition of Wisconsin State Banks, on the 5th of January. There are twenty-nine such banks. The following is a summary of their condition:

Capital	$1,104,431
Circulation	223
Deposits	8,933,421
Specie	76,403
Cash Items	404,881
Public securities	223
United States and National Bank notes	1,178,154

An application will be made to the Legislature on Monday night by the Secretary of State Pioneer's Association for permission to have printed at the State's expense the biographies of members of the First and Second State Constitutional Conventions. The Second is of great historic value, as nearly all of the old Constitutionalists were very early pioneers of the State and prominently identified with its territorial career.

The report of Railroad Commissioner Turner is being sent out to-day.

STARTLING RUMORS.

Another Flurry of Excitement from Maine—The Capitol Garrisoned by the Militia.

AUGUSTA, Maine, Jan. 23—Those who retire early in this Capital city little dream of the excitement and activity that now at midnight vades those intrusted with the preservation of the peace, order, and property of the State and city. Rumors had reached your correspondent that something was in the wind, and while writing this dispatch at the Augusta House, and waiting for the return of messengers, who had gone out to reconnoiter, a dispatch from the State House summoned him thither. At once obeying the summons, he found Governor Davis, with Adjutant General Beal and staff, Mayor Nash, City Marshal White, and others, and found that important movements were on foot. Those who have been quietly and sharply watching the course of events have become satisfied that the purposes of the Fusionists are not confined to the simple farce of playing legislature in an innocent and inoffensive way, but that a deeper and more desperate plot is concealed under this mask. The daily meeting and drilling of armed men, the threats sent forth to-day by ex-Councillor Fogg through his paper, the Greenback Chronicle, that the Capitol must be captured if it costs a thousand lives, together with other evidence, which it is not politic or prudent to make public, have led to the conclusion that the time is past for dallying further with the desperadoes whose every hope and safety lies in overthrowing the lawful authorities, and obtaining possession of the damning evidences of their guilt. Strongly as it has heretofore been urged to invoke the strong military arm, it has been thought wise and prudent not to do so unless it should become an actual necessity. It is now believed that, actuated by the belief that the authorities had become lulled to a sense of security, and thereby relaxed their vigilance, that the conspirators have come to believe that an attack might be made at an unexpected moment which should be crowned with success.

A council of war was accordingly held to-night, and it was decided to put the Capitol in charge of such a military force as would at once dispel these illusions and place the Capitol in a complete state of defense against any force that could be brought to bear. To be prepared for an attack is the way to avoid it, and orders have, therefore, been issued to the Capitol Guards, the Gardiner Light Infantry, the Auburn Light Infantry, and a detachment from the Lewiston Artillery to report at once at the Capitol, and since I have been writing the first named company has marched into the Capitol and taken up their quarters.

A special train from Lewiston will leave at 10 o'clock a. m., being the remainder of the force. Governor Davis has resisted all appeals hitherto to resort to military force, but, believing the exigencies of the time now demand it, he has promptly issued his orders, and they have been as promptly obeyed. All is quiet at this hour, and the prompt action taken will cause it doubtless to remain so.

EXPLAINS.

Some of the Difficulties the President Has with Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—Congressman Baker, of Indiana, was one of those alluded to in these dispatches a day or two since as being indignant at what they supposed to be deception on the part of the President in making appointments of census supervisors. Mr. Baker went to the President yesterday and recalled to his mind a positive promise he had made to Baker to appoint a certain man in his district, a Republican, which promise was neglected by the nomination of another man, a Democrat, of whom Baker knew nothing. When the matter was called to his attention, the President admitted that he had promised to make the other appointment, but apologized for an apparent breach of faith by explaining that the number of persons to be nominated was so large that the promise was unintentionally overlooked. To show his desire to keep faith, he at once withdrew the nomination of the Democrats, and sent the name of Baker's man to the Senate instead. But it seems the Democrat was a protege of Senator Voorhees, who secured his nomination originally, and it is his turn to be mad at the withdrawal. Voorhees vows that the substitute shall not be confirmed, and takes his turn in charging the President with duplicity.

GENERAL GRANT.

A Congratulatory Message from King Alphonso—A State Dinner.

HAVANA, Jan. 23—General Grant received a congratulatory message from King Alphonso to-day. A state dinner was given in his honor this evening.

HAVANA, Jan. 23.—General Grant and party passed a comfortable night, notwithstanding the earthquake. To-day, being King's Saint day, a grand official reception was held at the palace, attended by members of the municipality and superior military and naval officers, in full uniform, and foreign consuls.

General Callejas, Vice Governor General, held a reception as usual in the throne-room, Generals Grant and Sheridan and Colonel Fred Grant assisting by the side of General Callejas. The ladies of the visiting party witnessed the reception from an adjoining saloon, no ladies being permitted to attend at such official reception.

After the reception General Grant, his son and General Sheriden, drove through the city.

This evening a grand official banquet will be given in honor of General Grant, at which the ladies of the superior officers are expected to be present. It was expected General Grant and party would also attend the Tacon Theater to-night, but the banquet will interfere with that part of the plan.

NEW YORK.

A Canvass of the Legislature on the Presidential Question.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—The Tribune's Albany correspondents have made a canvass of the Republican members of the Legislature upon the Presidency. It is stated to be the opinion of politicians that it will be impossible to send a solidly pledged delegation to Chicago for Grant or any candidate. Interviews with twenty-four Republican Senators out of twenty-five, and eighty Republican Assemblymen out of ninety-one, show the following result:

Senate—Grant, 11; Grant or Blaine, 1; Sherman, 1; non-committal, 11; total, 24.

Assembly—Grant, 35; Blaine, 15; Sherman, 2; Conkling 4; Garfield, 1; Grant or Blaine, 4; Washburne, 1; Blaine or Sherman, 1; non-committal, 17. Total, 80. Second choice—Blaine, 18; Sherman, 4; Grant, 1; Conkling, 1. Total, 24.

The Tribune has also an interview with a prominent government official holding office in this city, having large influence in national politics, whose name is not given. He professes to tell exactly how the New York delegation to Chicago will stand. He says: "It will be perfectly competent for the State Convention to appoint the entire delegation to Chicago in a body, making up the slate and voting on all the names at once.

HORR AND COX.

Congressman Horr's Reply to Sunset Cox.

WASHINGTON, Jan 23—Sunset, or "Buttercup" Cox, as he will be known now, took occasion to be witty yesterday, at the expense of Congressman Horr, of Michigan, and descended to vulgarity. Horr was prevented from making a reply yesterday by the adjournment of the House, but a sense of fair play prevailed, and he was given a few minutes this morning. Friday, under the rules, is devoted to bills of a private nature, and it required unanimous consent for Horr to speak, which was prevented in the regular order by the objection of Whittaker, of Oregon. A large audience was gathered and everybody was anxious to have some fun, so that it was not difficult for Garfield by a parliamentary twist to get the House into committee of the whole on the President's message, and Horr was given the floor. It was quite an embarrassing position, for Horr was expected to be extremely funny, and it isn't every man who can be funny to order in cold blood. But those who anticipated a failure were disappointed, for Horr's speech was uncommonly good, and the points he made were thoroughly appreciated.

Mr Horr is a short man, rotund and rosy. He is new to this Congress, and was never in politics before. He lives at East Saginaw and is a lumberman. He is brim full of wit and good humor, and the malicious and vulgar threats of Cox yesterday could not have been more misdirected than at him. Horr's speech in the House last spring, when he told the Democrats that the South would never be prosperous "until they raised more corn and less cussedness," gave him a reputation as a man of strong practical sense as well as wit; and while he makes no pretensions as a rhetorician, his plain words and homely illustrations are the very essence of oratory, and no one is listened to in the House with better attention. Like Cox, he was originally an Ohio man, leaving that State in 1866.

TILDEN'S TAXES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—Some months ago the Government filed a bill of discovery in the case of the United States vs. Samuel J. Tilden, propounding questions as to Tilden's income during the years enumerated in the complaint. Governor Tilden, through counsel, demurred to the bill, and Judge Blatchford decided against him, ordering that he should answer the interrogatories. From this order Governor Tilden appealed to the Supreme Court. Sixty days have now elapsed, and Gov. Tilden has not yet filed his answer, claiming that it is not necessary until the Supreme Court have decided the appeal. To-day District Attorney Woodford moved before Judge Blatchford, in the United States Circuit Court, for a further order to compel Tilden to answer the interrogatories at once, irrespective of the appeal, which was opposed by counsel on the other side. The case was set down for argument next week.

EDISON'S HORSESHOE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—The attention of Mr. Edison having been called to the doubts of some Parisian critics concerning the stability of the carbon horseshoe, and the claim that it gradually wastes away by decomposition, he said: "A complete answer to that is the actual result. I can state that the oldest lamp in my laboratory, after burning 505 hours, had it electrical resistance measured and there was not a difference of one-tenth ohm from the time when it was originally put in the circuit. The surface of this carbon which burned 505 hours is as bright to-day as it was the day when first put in, whereas oxidization makes carbon black."

Edison says he has not sold a share of his stock.

GLASS FACTORY.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 23—A party of local and foreign capitalists are preparing to erect a mammoth glass manufacturing establishment in the village of Bay View. The capital stock of the company will be $250,000. Sand is to be obtained from the lake shore, and from the hills near Greenfield station, on the La Crosse Division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.

The opening article in Lippincott's Magazine for February, "A Day with the Ottawa Chantier-Men," by Frederic C. Mather, gives a lively account of the lumbermen and much information about the resources and prospects of the great Canadian forest lands, with many good illustrations. "Old and New Rouen" is the first of two illustrated papers, by Edward King, describing in his usual flowing and graphic style the most picturesque and interesting of French provincial towns. The eighth chapter of Dr Oswald's "Summerland Sketches," also illustrated, carries the reader to the Delta of the Sumasinta River.

"A Future Capital of the United States" is a short, well written paper, discussing the claims for Kansas City to occupy this at some future time. In the first of two carefully written papers on "Decorative Art and its Dogmas," the writer, M. G. Van Rensselaer, while acknowledging the great improvements in our interior embellishments during recent years, points out the danger of treating the principles to which this progress is mainly due as final and universal axioms. "The Bonapartes in Exile," by Arthur Venner, is a very entertaining paper, supplementing and correcting an article on the Bonaparte family in a recent number of Harper's Magazine. Under the title of "The Peasant-Land of Lorne," C. N. Lamont gives a pleasing sketch of some of the Hebridee Islands, the scene of Mr. Black's Princess of Thule and Macleod of Dare, and part of the Future Inheritance of the Marquis of Lorne. "Wildwood Studies" is a similar but more amusing sketch of life in the backwoods of Virginia.

"Adam and Eve," the new serial, by the author of Dorothy Fox, introduces in the present number scenes and characters will be new to American readers. There are also two very agreeable short stories by Margaret Bertha Wright and the author of "The Clifton Picture," a poem by Elaine Goodale, and the usual variety of reading in the "Monthly Gossip" and "Literature of the Day."

H. A. PATTERSON, P. M.

The Mexican and His Lasso.

A south Texas correspondent writes as follows:

An accomplishment of the cowboy, and one in which, to be successful, he must invariably be an adept, is "roping" cattle, or horses for that matter, with a lasso. It is an ordinary half-inch hempen rope, usually sixty feet long, and provided with what farmers call a "slip-knot." The Mexicans often use a "lariat," which is even stronger, and, by hand, made of rawhide thongs. The cowboy, when about to use his lasso, secures one end to the strong and substantial horn of his saddle, which is itself secured to the animal he rides by two strong broad girths of hair from the cow's tail. With the bridal reins in his left hand and the rope coiled up in his right, the cowboy gallops off into the prairies and directs his course toward some horse or cow he desires to catch. At sight of him they likewise set off at a gallop, and the race continues until the pursuer has gained sufficiently upon them to use his rope. The coil is at length suddenly thrown into the air, and so accurately has the rider calculated time and distance that, although his own animal and the one he is pursuing are dashing along like a locomotive, the noose descends on the head or around the horns of the fleeing cow. So well trained is the cowboy's horse that the latter instantly stops in his career and pulls back. The cow has also been harted and secured, the rider and his horse experiencing a profound jolt to which, however, they are not by any means strangers. A horse is caught in the same manner as a cow, only that the cowboy throws the rope around the neck instead of the horns as in the case of the cow.

But cattle and horses are not the only subjects of the lasso, which is and has long been used by Mexican bandits and highwaymen in assaulting and killing or robbing unwary travelers on the Rio Grande. For this purpose the stealthy thug generally conceals himself in a thicket of chapparel or behind a grove of cactus (prickly pear, which here grows higher than a man's head) near by the roadside. In this position he, panther-like, awaits the approach of his victim, he comes riding along totally unapprehensive of danger. All at once away goes the lasso high in the air, nor does the wayfarer have time to recover from his surprise before the fatal noose has been so tightly drawn around his thoat that his breathing is suddenly stopped, he is drawn from his horse in the death agonies and soon all is over The thug first secures the horse, if valuable enough, then waits till the last struggles are past, then quickly rifles his pockets, drags the corpse into the chapparel, and rides away on the dead men's horse.

Who are the Men That Have Built up This Republic.

An able Protestant American writer (William Matthews, L. L. D., in "Hours with Men and Books") says: "Who are the men who built up this nation and made it the great republic it is? Are they all, or nearly all, of Anglo-Saxon birth or descent? Not to speak of the Swiss, the Huguenots, the Dutch, and other minor people, let us look at the Irish contingent to American greatness. From the very first settlement of the country, in field and street, at the plow, in the senate, and on the battle-field, Irish energy was represented. Maryland and South Carolina were largely peopled by Hiberians. Maine, New Hampshire, Kentucky received many Irish emigrants. During the first half of the last century the emigration from Ireland to this country was not less than a quarter million. When our forefathers threw off the British yoke, the Irish formed a sixth or seventh of the whole population, and one-fourth of all the commissioned officers in the army and navy were of Irish descent. The first general officer killed in the battle, the first officer of artillery appointed, the first commodore commissioned, the first victor to whom the British flag was struck at sea, and the first officer who surprised a fort by land, were Irishmen; and with such enthusiasm did the emigrants from the Green Isle espouse the cause of liberty that Lord Mountjoy declared in parliament, "You lost America by the Irish."

We will not speak of the physical development of America to which two generations of Irish laborers have chiefly contributed; we will confine ourselves to the men of brain who have leavened the mass of bone and sinew by which our material prosperity has been worked out. Who were the Carrolls, the Rutledges, the Fitzsimmons, and the McKeans, of the revolution? whence came such men as Andrew Jackson, Emmet, J. C. Calhoun and McDuffie, of a later day? whence the projector of the Erie Canal, the inventor of the first American railroad? Whence two of our leading sculptors, Powers and Crawford? Whence our most distinguished political economist, Carey? Whence the hero of Winchester, whom all people of the North have delighted to honor? They were all Irish by birth or descent."

It Was in His Breath.

A few days since a well known and highly respected judge hailing from the interior of the State stopped for a short time in Newport, and while there determined to satisfy his curiosity by seeing and hearing for himself the wonders told him of the telephone. In company with several of his friends he started for the telephone office on Bellevue street. Unfortunately for him, on this occasion, they had to pass Bish's, and, being all Kentuckians, they of course stopped to test the quality of Bish's "sour mash," and from there proceeded to the telephone office. The judge called up his friend and professional acquaintance, O'H., in Covington, and disclosed his name and purpose. O'H was at first at a loss for something to say, but remembering that his friend, the judge, hailed from a large distilling district, innocently inquired the price of whisky. The judge, surprised and embarrassed, knowing O'H to be a great temperance man, turned to his companions and exclaimed horror struck, "He smells my breath!" —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Caution.

A WORD TO THOSE WHO USE POROUS PLASTERS. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS. The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under the name of Capsicum or Capsicin. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. All genuine BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTERS have the word CAPCINE cut in them. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Pharmaceutical Chemists, New York. PRICE 25 CTS. 23w4w deod

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained of years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

FORTY DAYS' FASTING.

Remarkable Case in Clinton County, Ohio—A Crazy Man's Freak.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial.

WILMINGTON, Ohio, Jan. 20—Webb Ferguson, a plasterer, about 30 years of age, in the employ of P. J. Murphy, developed signs of insanity some years ago, and becoming at times dangerous in his delirium, it was found necessary to confine him in the Clinton County Infirmary. During his incarceration the idea developed in his brain that he was called and specially appointed to excel our Savior in fasting. On the 31st day of May, 1874, he partook of a light breakfast early in the morning, and from that time out he refused to eat. When his meals were placed before him he would cast the food on the floor and push it away from him through the bars of his cell and beyond his reach. From the early morning meal on the 31st day of May until the 10th of July he took no food whatever. During this time he would occasionally sip a little water, but no more than was absorbed by his system, neither his kidneys nor his bowels having any action until about the 20th day of July, being a space of fifty days. At first his meals were served regularly by the Superintendent, and he was closely watched to see if he wouldn't eat on the sly, but he would invariably push every crumb beyond his reach, and remained firm in his resolve. This continued for some time, and then, seeing it was useless to do so, his attendants ceased to offer him food or to set it within his sight. Ferguson's idea was to fast forty-one days, being one day longer than the Scriptural fast, but on account of a very natural error in his calculations at the end of the fortieth day—that is, on the morning of July 10—he signified his willingness to again receive food. It was given him sparingly and with caution at first, and the amount increased gradually as his stomach was able to receive it, and he soon recovered his physical powers and strength. At the time of the beginning of his fast he was fleshy, and would probably have weighed two hundred pounds; but at the close he was so emaciated that his weight was reduced at least one-half. In 1873 Ferguson had taken a notion that he would not converse with any one, and for a year previous to his long fast he had not spoken a word, but when he began eating again he resumed his speech. Throughout the entire forty days of his fast he was closely watched, was fastened in an iron cage, and the door of his room kept locked so that no one could possibly have conveyed food to him. The above facts are corroborated by Dr. A. T. Quinn, at that time attending physician of the infirmary, and who stands high in his profession, and H. F. Armstrong, the Superintendent. From these two gentlemen the above details have been obtained by your reporter, although the principal facts in the case have been generally known in this community since the time of their occurrence. Ferguson is now in the asylum at Dayton, Ohio, doubtless the only man living who can boast, as he does, of exceeding Jesus Christ in the length of his fasting.

Grandfahter Lickshingle and the Edison Light.

"I am willin' to admit," said Grandfather Lickshingle, "that Mr. Edison has invented a wonderful invention."

Several member of the family arose and started towards the door.

"I was well aware," continued grandfather, without changing his tone, "that some persons resist any attempts at enlightenment on scientific topics, an' I therefore locked the door and put the key in my pocket. When I was a young man I was a great hand for experimentin' at one thing an' another, an' spent about all my surplus wages in working on a new light. I didn't fool aroun' with electicity, but went right for the planets. The sun, moon and stars, the real source of all light and heat, was what your grandfather tackled. I will give you the results themselves, an' then you will see that Mr. Edison is a tolerably small specimen."

"Your light wasn't superior to the electric light?"

"Wasn't, eh?? My light was as much ahead of Edison's as a house afire is ahead of a lightnin' bug. Young ladies could take my light and see their future husbands as plain as day.

"That was certainly very remarkable."

"Alongside of my light a streak of lightnin, had no more color in it than a rail fence, while a couple of small boys smoking cigar stubs lit from my illuminator looked like a torchlight procession."

"It must have created a sensation in the scientific world?'

"Yes, an' in the literary world, too. It knocked light readin' forty ways for Sunday. By attachin' a ten cent dufunny to your burner it 'ud generate a power that could be applied in any direction under the shinin' sun. It 'ud run a washing machine, iron the clothes, answer the door bell, carry in the coal, run errands,"—

"Grandfather, ain't you mistaken?"

"blacken your boots, cut your corns, drive home the cows an' haul a freight train."

"What has become of your wonderful light, grandfather?"

"Right there you will have to excuse me. Suffice it to say that I have it stored away in a safe place, an' at the proper moment I will spring it upon the country again. I will give you a pointer in time to sell Edison stock short, an' if you don't retire worth more than the king of the Cannibal islands don't blame it on your grandfather.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

How Two Americans Cleaned out a Company of Bandits.

Portland Press.

Our readers will remember a brief associated press dispatch which appeared in the Press the other morning telling how two men in a stage coach in Mexico, named Frank Senter and George Green, drove off a band of highwaymen with Winchester rifles. Frank Senter is a Portland boy, a nephew of William Senter, Esq, and was until lately in the jewelry business with his uncle, on Exchange street. We extract the following account of the affair in Mexico from a private letter written by Mr Senter:

"We left Guanjuato at 3 o'clock a. m Dec 16. The weather was bitter cold, but as usual, we took our seats on the top of the coach with revolvers and cartridges about us and Winchester carbines on our knees. After riding about three hours, and just at light we heard a rush of horses at our side, and a shot fired over our heads with an order to get down and surrender. We answered the summons with two shots into the crowd, and the man in front of George's rifle fell, and his companions started for the leading mules to stop them and tangle them up, but when twenty yards from me I rolled him from his horse and did not see him move a limb afterward. We then turned to see thirty well armed and mounted Mexicans following and firing. We put in quick shooting and soon drove them back seventy yards or more. They then tried to circle us, but as we turned our attention to the head men they all broke and collected in a bunch. We then had our coats off and placed in front of us, with 100 rounds between us, and we ordered the coach to be stopped and began our fine work at sharpshooting. This seemed to make them wild, and, with a yell like Comanche Indians, twenty or thirty of them came down on us at full speed, firing all the way, and a wilder fight I never care to see. It was no use to give up then, as they would have cut us to pieces if we had surrendered, so we met them in solid style, showing what a Winchester rifle was good for, and, as luck would have it, after firing sixty-five shots, we drove them back at full speed. One fellow, whose horse I had shot from under him, jumped behind the dead animal and deliberately emptied four shells at me over the saddle, and dodged under the horse, two of my shots, but my third "took his wind." In the affray George was shot in the shoulder, but it was only a flesh wound, and we kept on our way with a guard of eleven furnished us at the next city, four miles beyond. There were so many bushes we could not tell exactly how many were killed, but we are sure five robbers and four horses will not trouble travelers again. Inside the coach was a Spaniard who threw his revolver from the window, a Mexican who wrapped his head in a blanket and put his revolver under him, a German who had a pocket pistol and wisely did not shoot, and a lady who did the praying; so you see what a party we had to depend on, and what a lucky escape we had. I shall never get better help from any one man than I did there from George."

MISCELLANEOUS.

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind, one or more and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while it heals the ulcerated membrane by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

GEO. BEARD, M. D.

NOBSCOTT BLOCK, SO. FRAMINGHAM, Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of medical gentlemen, who, in private, not only freely recommend it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

"You are aware," said a distinguished city physician, "that my obligations to the Mass. Medical Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure; but since I received so much relief from the use of it myself, after a thorough trial of the usual remedies, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent to your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN,—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merit so that their suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past twelve years constantly, and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours, S. D. BALDWIN & CO.

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Strengthening Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

ELECTRICITY

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has fled the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. Their grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in pharmacy, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produce more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

PROF. HARRIS' RADICAL CURE FOR SPERMATTORHŒA.

—THE—

"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

SHAPE & SIZE OF A SEMINAL PASTILLE

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostrate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc. Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation, Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction. ——During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3.—Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5 ——Three boxes lasting three full months will stop emissions, and restore vigor, in the worst cases. $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

(Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the)
